Terrible Calamity in Memphis, Tennessee.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.

The ship General McClellan, ashore near Patchogue, had 150 passengers and an assorted cargo. Fifty tons of pig lead were thrown overboard to lighten the vessel. No lives were lost. The vessel will probably be saved.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 19.

A terrible calamity occurred here this morning. The confectionery establishment of Joseph Specht, 36 Madison street, took fire between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning. About 25 persons were asleep in the 3d and 4th stories of the building. The fire which originated in the cellar from some unknown cause, filled the upper stories with smoke and fumes of burning charcoal, while the flames in part cut off egress by the stairs.—Fourteen persons were suffocated in their rooms or lost their lives in attempting to escape by leaping from the window.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec 20.

Additional Mexican intelligence states that there appears to be no concord of action between Maximilian and Gen. Bazaine, as the latter has issued a manifesto that since the Emperor has determined to remain in Mexico, the French will remain neutral, and would only fight in case they were attacked.

Maximilian is still at Orizaba, and it is very improbable that he will take any permanent step until the money promised him shall have been paid in full.

Three-fifths of the Mexican people south of San Luis Potosi favor Juarez.

Ortega has no party, and Santa Anna is despised.

All the French troops are concentrated between the City of Mexico and Vera Cruz, except a few hundred in the interior.

The London Morning Post raises a question as to the loyalty of large numbers of Irishmen in the large towns of England, and urges that the Government should inquire how far they are committed to Fenianism, and to what extent they may be prepared to aid the movement.

Slight symptoms of alarm had been manifested in Liverpool, where large numbers of Irish laborers were out of employment.

Notwithstanding the denials by conservative organs, the London correspondent of the Scotsman reiterates his assertion that dissensions prevail in the Derby Cabinet.—He writes that D'Israeli is said to have, through his threat of resignation, succeeded in obtaining the consent of the Premier and a majority of the Cabinet to his proposal that a reform measure of a surprisingly and unpleasant liberal character should be introduced next session.

Communications between Earl Derby and D'Israeli have been frequent, and it is said the London reform demonstration had been no ineffectual auxiliary to D'Israeli.

George Smand & Co., of Tüisling, in the petroleum trade, had suspended. Liabilities £100,000 sterling.

La France of the 7th learns from a reliable source that in the last despatch from Maximilian, dated Nov. 23d, he requests the physicians of the Empress to meet him the 2d fortnight in December at a port on the Mediterranean, and that no more letters were to be sent him in Mexico.

A Vienna despatch states that Count Bombelles had proceeded to Gibraltar to receive Maximilian, who was expected on the 20th of December, in the Austrian steamer Dandulo.

On the 6th, the Pope gave a farewell audience to the French troops about to quit Rome.

The Paris Patrie says the scheme which is being concocted between the Catholic powers has no political meaning, but is simply an arrangement by which the Catholic governments would contribute towards the Pope's civil list.

NEW COUNTERFEIT GREENBACKS. Two new counterfeit notes of the greenback denomination have been circulated in some of our large cities. We give the description of them compared with the genuine, as stated by an exchange:

20s, imitation. Read on top Act of March 3, 1863. The female in the center, with left hand resting on a shield and right hand on a sword, has the head turned to the left and the eyes looking in the same direction. In the genuine the head is turned the same, but the eyes are looking front. The foot in the counterfeit is distinctly seen and counts four toes; in the genuine it is not visible. On the reverse side, in the words "United States of America," the shading runs all through the letters; in the genuine the letters are shaded on the edge only, showing white between.

5s of the issue of March 10, 1862. The words "United States" when compared with those of a genuine bill, have a scratchy appearance. In the general appearance, paper and printing, they are well calculated to deceive.

GEN. THOMAS'S ACCOUNT OF THE BATTLE OF NASHVILLE. In accepting the gold medal presented to him at Nashville on Saturday by Governor Brownlow, in behalf of the Legislature of Tennessee, as a mark of their appreciation of his services in defending Nashville and driving the rebels from Tennessee, General Thomas gave the following interesting outline of the circumstances which led to the battle of Nashville and the strategy which resulted in the triumph of the Union arms on that occasion:

"After a victorious advance into the heart of the enemy's country, our great leader, Gen. Sherman, sat down to take a little rest. Immediately the enemy resumed the offensive, and attempted to drive him back. Seeing into their plans, Gen Sherman detached me to Tennessee to attend to affairs in the rear of the army, and keep open my communication with him. Even on my arrival in Tennessee an advance force of the enemy had attacked our communications and had done some damage, but he was soon driven out. Very soon afterwards Gen. Sherman conceived his plan of marching to the sea and left me to defend Tennessee in case the enemy should advance on that State and attempt to go further north; and in case the enemy should follow Gen. Sherman, I was to pursue with what troops I could gather up and harass his rear and destroy his communications.

Gen. Sherman's main army, and the main army of the enemy, remained quietly observing each other on the borders of Alabama and Georgia, while I endeavored to meet the emergency that was approaching by the organization of returned furloughed men and convalescent, and concentrated the in such a manner as to be able to defend the post, if possible. But I was not permitted to remain idle or delay operations. The enemy perceiving his advantage, started directly for Tennessee, while Gen. Sherman, just about the same time, started for Savannah. Thus there was then nothing left or me but to delay his approach as long as possible without risking a battle until an army could be assembled sufficiently large to meet the enemy. After the utmost exertions on the part of myself and part of my staff, and also on the part of the commanders of different bodies of troops, we finally succeeded in getting an army of some 50,000 men at Nashville on the 1st day of December, but they needed clothing and transportation; they also needed horses to enable them to do something more than simply to fight a battle. It was necessary then to delay until these could come. In the meantime the weather became very disagreeable, and it was almost impracticable to move troops. This further delayed us some four or five days; but finally about the 12th of December, all preparations being made, the order of battle was explained to the different commanders, and everything prepared for the conflict next morning.

Bad weather delayed us until the 15th, and on that day Gen. Steedman with a small band of convalescents and men who had been dismounted, and were but partially organized, commenced the battle on the left, and contrived so to occupy the attention of the enemy that he appeared entirely to forget the other portion of his line, and concentrated heavily at that point, evidently expecting a battle there. This was expected in my programme, and after General Steedman had opened battle and had been engaged about half an hour, the troops were moved into their respective positions, and almost like men on review, and took post after post, and drove the enemy to the hills. (Cheers.) The next day, by a skillful movement of the cavalry command, the enemy's left was entirely turned, and this by one of the most gallant assaults I have ever witnessed, the entire line of the enemy was swept from left to right. (Applause.) So ended one of the strongest and most daring armies the enemy ever conjured. (Renewed applause.) This army was pursued two hundred and fifty miles and finally received its last blow at the hands of the cavalry command under. It is with the greatest pleasure that I avail myself to-day of the opportunity of speaking in praise of these gallant men and officers then under my command.

CURIOUS STATISTICS. In a lecture on "New York in the nineteenth century," delivered by Rev. Dr. Osgood recently before the New York Historical Society, it was stated that that city has a population of over a million, and some 50,000 dwellings. The value of her property is $1,000,000,000.—Her manufactured products amounted in 1865 to $150,000,000, or nearly one-eleventh of the entire manufactures of the country. Her receipts from Customs last year were over $100,000,000. With the usual rate of increase her population in 1900 will reach 4,000,000 souls. The speaker gave some statistics gathered from the unpublished census of 1865, from which it appears that there are in New York, 2½ regiments, 1000 each, of boiler makers, 4 regiments of butchers, 1½ regiments of brokers, 3 regiments of shoemakers, 4½ regiments of cartmen, 17½ regiments of clerks, ½ regiment of clergymen, 9½ regiments of dress makers, 1 regiment of engineers, 3½ regiments of launderesses, 1½ regiment of lawyers, 1 regiment of grocers, 6 regiments of merchants, 1 regiment of musicians, 1½ regiments of physicians, 33 regiments of servants, 10 regiments of tailors, 1 regiment of ship carpenters, &c., &c., and 100,000 school children. When this industrial army marches, a great force goes with it.

A number of benevolent ladies of Philadelphia, impressed with the importance of furnishing a place of residence to young girls engaged in stores in that city, who are unable to pay the rates charged at boarding houses, recently decided to establish a home where board could be had at small cost, and where also young women arriving in the city could abide until they succeeded in obtaining employment. The ladies who started the enterprise purchased two handsome three story brick dwellings, which they furnished plainly, but with everything that could contribute to the comfort of the inmates. Here a large number of respectable young women have found a respectable home, and the institution has proved a great benefit.

A BIG BUSINESS. At the annual meeting of the New York Clearing House, it was stated that its transactions last year amount to $29,282,020,440, or nearly thirty thousand million dollars. The transactions for the whole thirteen years of its existence foot up $168,070,344,871.33, one hundred and fifty-eight thousand million dollars. It is a volume of business sixty times greater than the entire national debt. All this immense business has been done through the ordinary machinery of the Clearing House without the error or the loss to the association of a dollar.

GEN. GRANT'S VISIT TO MISSOURI. A Washington despatch says that Gen. Grant's visit to Missouri is occasioned by the threatening condition of political affairs in that State. He is reported to be making such disposition of the United States forces as will prevent the bushwhackers from making any successful outbreak.

Items in General.

Four gentlemen recently took tickets on one of the French railways to enable them to proceed by a certain train in another direction. During the journey the engine broke down, and to reach their destination at the fixed time they hired a special train, which a civil court has decided the railway company is bound to pay for, with interest on the money advanced from the time of the occurrence, and the cost of the action.

Monday night last Mr. Chapman, a grocer on High street, New Haven, missed his door key. He concluded something was wrong, and having barricaded the door inside he sat down to keep watch. Immediately he was stunned by a blow upon the head from some one who had concealed himself inside, and who, after robbing the store, threw down the barricades and then stepped out.

About 2,500,000 dead letters have been destroyed during the year. Of these upward of 61 per cent. were ordinary business circulars, advertisements of lottery and gift enterprises, notices of corporate societies, and tradesmen's bills; the remainder being composed of letters not signed, or so written as to be unintelligible.

California is in trouble about her taxes.—her currency is gold, but in paying taxes upon incomes they are first reduced to the greenback standard. As this fluctuates day by day, the people are all in a fog about it, and the newspapers call it an "outrage."

In a late speech at Manchester, England, Lord Stanley related a story of an admirably conducted man in jail, who by extra work managed to lay by a respectable sum, which, on his release, he immediately proceeded to invest in a set of housebreaking tools.

The cattle plague in England has turned the attention of farmers to raising and keeping goats for milk. In ancient days these animals were kept in large flocks, both for meat and milk, and the flesh of a young kid was highly prized.

A bootblack in Louisville, Ky., recently sued a merchant for one dime for services rendered and gained his suit. The costs of Court, which were paid by the defendant, amounted to between two and three dollars.

The Cry of "Miscegenation."

In answer to the senseless copperhead cry that Amalgamation must necessarily be a consequent of giving the colored man his political and civil rights, it has well been said that the supporters of slavery were those who most of all favored amalgamation. There is no other state of society in which the mixture of races would go on one-half as rapidly as under a system of slavery, with the law that the offspring shall follow the condition of the mother. We ought, perhaps, to say rather one-tenth than one-half.

Aside from the degradation which the system induces, the colored woman has no protection for her virtue from the white man's lust; and colored husbands and fathers have no power to protect their wives and daughters. Then, cupidity, no less than lust, stimulates concubinage. The products are sources of gain, and the more as they have a larger proportion of Caucasian blood. The most gainful part of the traffic is when the slaveholder sells his own child, and especially if it is a beautiful daughter.

In a state of freedom and equal rights, all this is changed. The virtue of the black woman has now the same protection and guards as that of the white. Honorable and virtuous marriage takes the place of bestial concubinage before prevailing. And in this marriage, if it be left free, mutual preference will very rarely lead to a connection between those of a different race and color. Even in the very few cases in which it might do this, the evil would be far less than that of illicit intercourse. We believe it to be best that the law should not interfere (beyond the enforcement of rules of morality) with the selection of partners for life, but should leave the matter to personal preference, judgment and principle. It has been the experience of ages that prohibition does but stimulate desire; and that this is apt to find unlawful paths, if the lawful are closed. The more entirely the black and white races are made equal before the law, the less rapidly, we believe, their amalgamation will go on. The greater the degradation in which one of the races is kept, the more rapid this amalgamation. This appears to be the natural or social law governing this matter.

It, however, it should be deemed expedient, for the welfare of the two races, to prohibit their intermarriage, we do not see that a statute to this effect would conflict with the principle of equality between them, since both races would be alike affected by it. It does not stamp one race as inferior to the other, any more than a law forbidding those of English or Irish descent to intermarry would pronounce either Saxons or Celts inferior. We object to such a law, not as unequal, but as inexpedient.

Nothing, then, is more absurd than to object to measures for securing equality of civil and political rights between the two races, by Nasby's test question, "Do you want to marry, etc. (See letter of, Oct. 1.) Such measures in the first place, tend by natural laws to diminish, and not to increase, amalgamation; and secondly, they do not at all interfere with a law prohibiting intermarriage, if this should be deemed expedient.

REBEL OBSTRUCTION TO THE LAWS. A correspondent of the Press, writing from Washington, states some important facts, showing how the rebels are determined to prevent the colored loyalists of the South from obtaining the benefit of the laws of Congress passed in their behalf. On Thursday of last week resolutions were offered calling on the General Land Office and the Freedmen's Bureau for all information in their possession, relating to operations under the Amended Homestead law of last session, which was introduced by Mr. Rice of Maine. That measure, it will be remembered, places all the public lands in the States of Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana, under the operations of the Homestead Law, restricted, however, to eighty acres each person, and, also, until Jan. 1st, 1867, to those persons who can in addition to the oath of loyalty take the test oath.

When the bill was under discussion, in a communication to the Committee on Public Lands, Gen. Howard urged the passage of the bill, as it would enable the freedmen to occupy these lands within the period named. There is not the least doubt that with ordinary opposition the Bureau would have accomplished its promise.

It appears, however, that an organized effort has been made in some, if not all, of the States to prevent the freedmen from reaping the benefit of the act. In Florida this opposition has to a large degree been futile, some twelve thousand acres having been occupied, giving homes to about two hundred families. In Alabama there has not been as much progress as this. The land offices in that State were all concentrated in one at Montgomery, and great complaint is made about its management. The freedmen, after the bill's passage, organized associations to avail themselves of its benefits. A correspondent of the Mobile Advertiser and Register (John Forsyth's organ) boasts that but seventeen freedmen have availed themselves of the law. The Mobile Nationalist, edited by Albert Griffin, chairman of the Southern Loyalist Committee appointed at Springfield, Ill., declares that the land officers at Montgomery do everything in their power to hinder the search for land and the examination of plats, etc., by either white or black loyalists. In an office, the chief officer of which, Commissioner Joseph Wilson, forbids his clerks in Southern correspondence to use the terms "late rebellion" or "rebels" it is not at all unlikely that the charges made by the Nationalist should prove true.

There are about forty million acres of land in the States named. The loyal men of the South, now here, ask Congress to extend the time prohibiting ex-rebels from the occupation of these lands. There are all sorts of cliques here, engaged in attempts to revive forfeited land grants in those States. Another set from Louisiana are here, asking for a grant of public land in that State to aid in rebuilding the Mississippi levees. The Levee Commissioners who are represented in this endeavor are all pro-rebel in character and sympathies.

A FAST YOUNG MAN. The young Duke of Hamilton, the premier nobleman of "the kingdom of Scotland," and the representative of the Stuart family, three years ago succeeded to his title and an estate which realized $350,000 per annum. He took to horse racing and other means of lavish expenditure, and now he is a pensioner of his creditors, with every acre of his lands, his palaces and town residences in the hands of Jew lenders, where they will probably remain till the next heir of entail succeeds to the title.

It is intended to forward to the Paris Exhibition a pyramid representing the space which would be occupied by all the gold produced in Australia during the last fifteen years. The height of the trophy will be 59 feet 10 inches, while at the base it will measure 10 feet square. Its cubic capacity will be equal to 1091 feet, and it will represent a weight of 1071 tons 3qr. 12 lb, of the value of £140,000,000.

The Boston Commercial states that over one million pounds domestic wool were sold in that market during the last week. Manufacturers are now willing to purchase freely at prices which they would not pay a fortnight since.

There are quite a large number of Southern men in Washington at the present time endeavoring to ascertain the feeling of Congress on the question of restoration; and it is said that as a result of their investigations, several of them will unite in a statement for publication, setting forth that the constitutional amendment furnishes the best terms which it is possible for the South to obtain from this or the Fortieth Congress.

DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.
DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No. 35 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars.
Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease, and how to use his medicines; namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer: but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part also; whether it is Tubeculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint.
His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by and are well enough, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease. for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver are kept in perfect order. To get lungs in a healing condition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created, so as to make good blood, before the lungs will begin to heal: then the chills and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration become free and easy.
He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box.

Be on the alert, Danger is at Hand.
This has been a sickly season. The medical faculty prophesy evil in the future. They think pestilence is on the wing for America. Suppose this to be true, what is the best defence against it? REDOUBLED NERVOUS VIGOR. This is the only protection against PANIC, as well as against the PRINCIPLE OF INFECTION. Why do not those who predict the epidemic propose an adequate preventive? There IS one; a tonic, nervine and alterative, competent to shield the system against the subtle elements of disease, whether they float hither on the winds from distant lands, or rise like vapor from our own soil or are incorporated with the universal fluid. This ONLY PREVENTIVE, of which there is no duplicate among the compounds either of the Old World or the New, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.
Remember that it is a specific for all the complaints which lay the system open to visitations of deadly epidemics. If you are dyspeptic, it renews the vigor of your digestive powers, gives you appetite, and restores your cheerfulness. If you are nervous, it invigorates every fibre of your nervous system, from the base of the brain, where it begins, to the extremities, where it terminates. If you are bilious, it disciplines your unruly liver and brings the action of that organ into harmony with the laws of health. It is, in short, an invigorant and alterative so powerful that Nature, with Hostetter's Bitters for her ally, may bid defiance alike to native malaria and foreign infection. If this enemy we hear of, this disease which is desolating Europe, is really bound hitherward, it behooves the prudent to put on their armor, to clothe themselves with invulnerability as far as human means will permit, by preparing the system for resistance with this pure antidote. dec 11 sn 3tawd&w2w

"We consider the perfect finish and successful working of the FLORENCE Sewing Machine, exhibited by C. Patch & Co., General Agents, Boston, Mass., deserve more than a passing notice. This Machine appears to combine all the excellencies but none of the defects of other Sewing Machines with which we are acquainted. The great variety of work that can be accomplished by its four different stitches, the reversible feed motion, (easily effected by a thumb-screw) the self-adjusting tension, the rapidity and QUALITY of the work done by it, seem clearly to demand of us the award of the Society's highest premium—its silver medal."
At the New Hampshire State Fair, held at Nashua, Sept. 1865, the FLORENCE was awarded the highest premium given to Sewing Machines—a Diploma.
At the Mechanics' Association Fair, held in Boston, September, 1865, the FLORENCE received the Silver Medal and Diploma, together with all the other Machines on exhibition, with the exception of the Wilcox and Gibbs, which received a Diploma only, on account of its being merely a single thread chain stitch Machine.

A fire broke out in Newport about midnight, in a wooden building occupied by Watson Cook and Zenas Moore, and swept the buildings as far as Bridge Street, a distance of 40 rods. The loss is at present unknown. The insurance on one building owned by Cummins Oaks had expired but three days before.

The Masonic Hall and furniture were destroyed.

The fire is still burning, but it is hoped it will extend no further. There is no fire engine in town. E. H. J.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20!

The Postmaster General has sent estimates to the House for service of the department for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1868, the sum being $17,500,000. The items include, for inland transportation, $8,600,000; for foreign mail transportation $620,000, and for ship, steamboat and way letters $8000.

The following amounts will be required from any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated—

For overland mail transportation between New York and San Francisco $900,000; for steamship service between San Francisco, Japan and China, for one year from July 1, 1867, $500,000; for steamship service between the United States and Brazil for the same period $150,000. Total $1,550,000.

A communication from the Treasury Department says no plans have been prepared for the proposed marine hospital at Chicago, it being desirable that the site should be selected before they are prepared, in order to adapt them to the peculiarities of the location, should there be any. Mr. Mullett, the Superintending Architect, says he proposes to visit Chicago during the present month, in order to make a personal examination of such property as may be offered, and trusts to be enabled to recommend a suitable site on his return.

The correspondence submitted to the House today comprises letters from Santa Anna, addressed to the President from St. Thomas and Elizabeth, setting forth his intention in respect to Mexico, and soliciting aid as a basis to commence the work of redeeming his country from the yoke which oppresses it. He sent Captain "Etyigi," in June last to Washington, with full power to act for him, but it appears that he was informed that the Executive Government holds no intercourse affecting the international relations of the United States and Mexico, only with its accredited representatives.

Santa Anna asked for a personal interview, but this the Secretary of State refused on the ground that it was the practice of the Government to hold correspondence in regard to the affairs of a friendly foreign republic exclusively with its recognized agents and never with persons whom such a foreign government pronounces to be hostile.

The correspondence also includes letters from General Ortega, complaining of his arrest, and protesting in the name of the Mexican Republic, whose President he claims to be. General Sheridan says that General Ortega was about to cross the line of our frontier, and was arrested on the same principles that the Fenians were arrested in attempting to violate our laws by the invasion of Canada.

Commissioner Beckwith writes that a new order of prizes will be offered at the Paris Exhibition, for the competition of persons, establishments and localities which have developed remarkable good order and harmony among the operatives or workmen, and promoted their moral, intellectual and physical welfare in an eminent degree. Competition therefore does not consist in exhibition and comparison of products, but in comparison of methods, presented in plans and reports and memorials, describing such organizations and their result.

The labor of examining the documents presented for this purpose, is assigned to a special jury of 25 persons, disconnected entirely from the exhibition of products, and whose duties will commence on the 1st of December, 1866, and be continued till the period fixed for their report in 1868. Mr. Beckwith has nominated for juror Charle C. Perkins of Boston, which nomination has been accepted by the Imperial Commission.

The New York bank tax cases were taken up in the Supreme Court to-day, for argument. Messrs. Silliman & Burrill opened for plaintiffs, in error, and Mr. O'Gorman for Commissioner of Taxes. Mr. O'Connor will follow on the same side to-morrow.

Lewis H Weichman, who it will be remembered was one of the principal witnesses for government in the case of Payne, Atzerott, Harrold, Mrs. Surratt and others, the assassination conspirators, was before the grand jury to-day, to give his testimony as to the complicity of John H Surratt in the murder of President Lincoln.

The Senate in executive session confirmed the following nominations—

Rear Admiral Bailey, retired.

Capt J M Berrin, to be Commodore, vice Com R B Hitchcock, retired.

Captain Alfred Taylor, to be Commodore, vice T O Selfridge, retired.

Arrangements have been made for an exchange of mails with the French line of steamers between St. Nazaire and Vera Cruz, postage 15 cents. The arrangement extends to Central and South American countries.

Humphill, Hamlin & Co., carpet dealers, lost $15,000—fully insured; Louis Schield & Co., carpet dealers, lost $125,000—insured $120,000. Morris Jacobson, dealer in cloaks, lost $20,000.—The building was owned by F. F. Sperry, and was damaged $20,000.

About 6 a. m another fire broke out in the stables of Albert Rosenthal in Lot's Lane, Brooklyn, and one horse and 18 cows perished in the flames. No insurance.

Advices received from the ship General McClellan state that she went ashore on the outer bar off Patchogue Light, at 5 a. m. on the 18th—the weather mild and clear at the time. She has 170 passengers and considerable sickness among them. She was hauled off at three o'clock this morning by a steam tug.

The wind yesterday was very strong from the Northwest, and there were but few arrivals from sea. The cold was intense off shore. A number of steamers are now over due, including steamships City of New York and Helvetia, from Liverpool 5th; St Lawrence, from Havre 6th; Columbia, from Glasgow 7th; Mississippi, from Havana the 15th; Santiago de Cuba, from Greytown, and Ocean Queen, from Aspinwall.

Colorado dates of the 13th, report much bad feeling between the State and anti-State men in the Legislature, which was about equally divided.

SWEETSBURG, C. E., Dec. 20.

The trial of Madden continued. Peter Yates swore a party of Fenians came to his house near Pigeon Hill on the 7th. They said they came to fight the British government and to establish a republican government, which they thought the people generally would prefer. They also said they wanted to whip the red coats and that there was a renegade Irishman named Barry McGee, who if they caught would string up.

T R Roberts and A Stevenson testified to seeing Madden.

Anthony Sewall, Constable, narrated the arrest of Madden with a carbine and sabre. Both fired at the same time. Found a Fenian medal on him. Witness shot him in the side with a revolver and afterwards between the shoulders and then drove him off to Pigion Hill. While in the buggy prisoner asked him to throw him out into the ditch and let him die.

Rye Keath corroborated Sewall's evidence. James Musgrove bought a carbine for a dollar, and offered Madden two dollars for his. The others were smashing their guns.

Private Tilbury, of the Royal Guards, formed part of the force pushing Fenians, and testified to their retreat across the line, where a party of U. S. troops received them.

Messrs. O'Halloran and Devlin then addressed the jury, and the Court adjourned.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 20.

Col Bromford, commanding the United States military forces in this State, interfered and prevented corporeal punishment on the person of a negro, this morning. Judge Daniel D. Fowler decided to indict all military officers who were concerned in the transaction. The negro was returned after receiving eight lashes, and the soldiers left the ground. The indictments will be issued against the officers. The negro will be whipped to-morrow. Judge Fowler has called on the Governor to carry out the laws of the State.

Thirty-Ninth Congress.

SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.

Senate.

Mr. Henderson offered a resolution based on a despatch from Gov. Fletcher, of Missouri, calling upon the President for information as to whether he had since the first of December sent troops into the interior of Missouri, for any purpose. If so, to indicate the reasons &c. Adopted.

The bill to admit Nebraska was taken up.

Mr. Williams explained that he had received scurrilous letters from anonymous parties concerning the increase of salaries of lady clerks in the Treasury Department, and said he favored a judicious increase, but was not to be deterred from his duty by such attacks.

Mr. Johnson defended the Supreme Court against the charge of a morning paper styling it as the hatching place for treason.

Mr. Pomery presented a bill to aid the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad Southern Branch.

The despatch from Gov. Fletcher asserts that Gen. Grant has sent troops to Lexington, Mo., and protests against such interference, unless asked for by the Governor himself, and asks Congress, if the President does not withdraw the troops to require him to do so.

Mr. Wade in speaking on the Nebraska bill, said he was in favor of impartial suffrage. The bill was a help not a hindrance.

Messrs. Pomery, Edmunds and Sprague followed in opposition.

The Senate at 4 P. M. adjourned until Thursday, Jan. 3, 1867.

House.

Mr Dolano, on obtaining leave, introduced a resolution directing that until otherwise ordered it should be unlawful for any officer of the government to pay any account, claim or demand, against the government, accruing prior to the 13th April, 1861, in favor of any person who promoted or in any manner sustained the late rebellion, or in favor of any person who during such rebellion was not known to be opposed thereto, and distinctly in favor of its suppression.

The resolution was read three times and passed.

Mr. Stevens offered the following—

Resolved that a committee of seven be appointed to report a bill to establish a system of free schools for the District of Columbia, from which no child six years old or more, residing in said District, shall be excluded except for improper conduct; the schools to be supported by taxes impartially levied on the essible property of the District, together with such fixed annual appropriations as Congress may grant. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Donnelly, the Secretary of War was requested to communicate the report of Major General Warren of the surveys made under his supervision during the past season, of the upper Mississippi river and its tributaries, with a view to the improvement of the navigation of the same.

Mr. Morrill from the committee on ways and means, reported back the Sena e joint resolution on accounts of Wm. P. Wingate, Collector of the port of Bangor, Maine. Adopted.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the President's annual message, Mr. Wilkins in the chair.

Mr. Hise resumed his argument against the power of Congress to territorialize the late rebellious states.

Mr. Lawrence, of Ohio, argued the policy of reducing the salaries of members and senators, and mileage to ten cents a mile. The latter resolution alone would save $125,000 per annum. He made a strong appeal for economy in legislation.

Mr. Randall (Mr. Lawence) knew of any member who had not taken the increased compensation.

Mr. Cobb said that he had not, and thought it wrong, and the people had not endorsed it at last election.

Much factiousness and cross firing followed.

A message was then received from the President with documents concerning Santa Anna and Ortega's attempts to organize an armed expedition to invade Mexico.

A committee was appointed on common schools in the District of Columbia, which was comprised of the following gentlemen:

Messrs. Stevens, Patterson, Walker, Boutwell, Moulton, Ashley and Hubbell.

Mr. O'Neil presented a petition of seamen and others, asking for additional bounty.

On motion of Mr. Spaulding the committee on ways and means were instructed to examine into the expediency of admitting timber for ship building free of duty.

The House then adjourned until Thursday Jan. 3, 1867.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

LOOK OUT FOR CHRISTMAS. Our advertisers of Christmas and New Year's gifts are offering a splendid assortment of articles in every line, ornamental, fanciful and useful. Every one's taste can be gratified, as our patrons will see by reference to the advertisements, and gifts found suitable to every age, sex and station. What cannot be found at one place can at another. Those who desire to purchase gifts and want to obtain the most desirable articles, will of course apply first at these establishments, which have goods that they have confidence enough in to recommend by advertising.

OUR CUSTOM HOUSE ENLARGEMENT. Among other Custom House extensions reported upon to Congress by the Supervising Architect, is that at Bangor, which he hopes "can be finished next season". The plan, we understand, is different from that which was at first proposed. The general plan, as now approved, is as follows:—The extension to be upon the southerly end 50 feet in length and about 40 feet in breadth. The Postoffice department will occupy the southerly end on the lower floor (or the new part) while on the same floor (in the old part) will be rooms on either side for the Collector and Assessor of Internal Revenue. The upper or second floor will embrace the Customs rooms as they now are, and in the extension or new part will be the United States Court rooms. The entrance way to the Custom House will consist of a narrow dark alley on the easterly side. The entire plan, as we are informed, is faulty—poorly answering the wants of the community.

The Postoffice will not be much larger than it now is, while the Customs rooms will be virtually in the rear, away from the business portion of the city. The U. S. Court rooms, which are to be directly in front, are hardly made use of a week during the year. The original plan of putting an extension on either end is much better, and strong hopes are now expressed that the present plan, before it is finally agreed upon, will receive many modifications.

THE BANGOR BRIDGE. It will be seen by the proceedings of the City Council, published yesterday, that a petition is to be sent to the Legislature for fixing tolls for ten years substantially the same as now established, with the exception of a uniform rate of ten cents upon each vehicle drawn by one horse, and female passengers to go free—and that any time after five years, the city of Bangor, town of Brewer, and other towns in this county, either jointly or separately,—or the county of Penobscot, shall have the right to purchase said Bridge and estates adjoining in Bangor and Brewer, owned by said Company, at a price to be fixed by appraisers to be appointed by order of the Supreme Court of Maine.

—The snow which fell on Sunday night drifted so badly in this vicinity or "blew off" from the roads so much in many places, that the sleighing is almost impracticable, and travelling is very difficult. The promise of more snow on Wednesday failed, the weather clearing off cold yesterday. We suppose there is snow enough in the woods (where it must lay level) to start the lumbering teams—but it is still difficult getting in supplies.

—We regret to learn that John M. Lord, Esq., is suffering from a severe attack of erysipelas, which has assumed a dangerous form. Great anxiety is felt for the result by his numerous circle of friends.

A SOUTHERN NOVEL, entitled "St. Elmo" by Miss Augusta J. Evans, author of "Beulah," &c., has just been published by G. W. Carlton, of New York. We have a copy from J. W. Bartlett of this city, by whom it is for sale. The author, Miss Evans, is a Mobile woman, and the News of that city says that she is a "southern woman in every respect—by birth, education, prejudice, sympathy, feeling and all." There will naturally be a curiosity to see how such a woman writes at the present juncture,—We do not know that there is anything political in the book, however, and she has certainly the reputation of writing good novels.

—The Lewiston Journal says that Rev. George T. Day, who was two years ago elected Professor in Bates College, and who has since made the tour of Europe, Egypt and Palestine, and has been expecting to enter on the duties of his professorship next Spring, has just accepted the position of editor of the Morning Star, made vacant by the death of Wm. Burr, and accordingly declines the chair in the college. Much as this is regretted by the friends of the college, those among them who have the best opportunity to judge, admit that great as was the importance which they deservedly attached to his services in the college, the reasons for his accepting the other position are even more urgent.

—We learn from the Argus that the depot in Yarmouth at the junction of the Grand Trunk and P. & K. Railroads, was destroyed by fire during the storm on Monday. The flames caught from a defect in the chimney. The building was an old one and loss is small. The contents were all saved except some western tickets. The P. & K. Co., will immediately erect a temporary depot and in the spring it is expected the two roads will unite in the construction of a handsome station house.

MASONIC. At the annual communication of Mystic Lodge, F. & A. M., of Hampden, held Saturday evening, Dec. 15th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Geo. Joss, M.
H. E. Grant, S. W.
S. W. Matthews, J. W.
Daniel Crosby, T.
George A. Emery Sec.
Charles Hardy, S. D.
E. F. Harding, J. D.

—The Rockland Gazette says that sch. Emma Furbish, of that port, Capt. Crowell Jones, Jr., sailed from Galveston on the 17th of September last, bound for Baltimore, and has not since been heard from.—Fears are entertained for their safety. This is the sixth vessel reported missing since the awful hurricane of Oct 1. They were all probably lost with their crews.

—The Saco Democrat says that on Wednesday last Mr. Peter Hill, of Buxton, left his team, a valuable pair of horses, standing near the Saco depot, and when the noon train arrived from Boston the horses took fright and dashed through the depot and ran into a pond of water, and becoming entangled in the harness one of them was drowned.

—A meeting of the corporators of the Knox and Lincoln Railroad has been called at Thomaston on the 27th, to see if they will accept their charter with the several amendments, and to see if books shall be opened for subscription to the capital.

—The Bath Times asserts that a very fine mineral spring is found at the top of Pike's Hill in Norway. It is a little more than half a mile from the village, and from 700 to 900 feet above it. No more delightful summer resort could be found in the State, unseasonable though the remark may be.

—The Eastport Sentinel says Mr. Ransome, revenue officer at Pembroke, seized a double team and a quantity of liquors and cigars at that place on Wednesday last.—The team was owned at Milltown.

—The Press says that a man named Driscoll, died at the jail in Portland Wednesday, from the effects of a wound received while resisting officer Porter.

—Charles Jameson, aged 35, was drowned at Sabattus Pond on Thurday of last week, by the breaking of the ice while he was skating.

—The Winthrop Agricultural Works employ 80 hands, and turn out every year 150 to 200 Whitman's Patent Horse-Power and Threshing Machines.

—The Pioneer says that more cedar shingles will be made in that county this winter than ever before. Our Bangor lumber dealers buy immense quantities of them.

—The operatives in the Lewiston Mills have petitioned the corporation for a diminution of the hours of labor from eleven to ten per day.

—The Oxford Democrat is informed that a company has been organized for the purpose of mining plumbago in the town of Canton.

—Among the Americans present at the marriage festivities in St. Petersburg was Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Pierce of Gorham.

—The Maine Musical Association will hold its next meeting in Lewiston, commencing Jan. 17th.

—The Argus says oysters are selling at $1.60 per gallon in Portland.

ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY. Last night a lady living on Federal street was awakened by some one in her room. She quietly woke her husband, and they waited the fellow's vain attempt to find any valuables. After the burglar had left the room, the husband rose and dressed himself and gave chase, going in the direction of the police office. While the gentleman went in to call up an officer, the burglar escaped without being recognized.

A GOOD COLT. We learn that a two year old Knox colt recently purchased by a Boston merchant in this State has trotted a half mile in 1 31. He is a large and fine animal and his owner has already refused $2500 for him.—[Argus.

—Intelligence has been received at the Treasury Department of the arrest, by U. S. customs officers stationed at Houlton, of two notorious smugglers, who, in defiance of law, have for several years been engaged in successfully prosecuting this contraband traffic.

An Effectual Worm Medicine

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

Or Worm Lozenges. Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child.—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

FIRST LOVE.

Turning over papers—
Dead-leaf drift of years—
In the midst a letter
Stained with tears!

Face of any dead one
Scarce had moved me so;
There my first love lying,
Buried long ago.

Darling love of boyhood.
What glad hours we knew—
Tears so sweet in shedding
Vows that were so true!

Dear face round and dimpled,
Voice of chirping bird,
Hardly then, for heart throb,
Any word I heard.

But to know she loved me,
Know her kind and fair,
Was in joy to revel,
Was to walk on air.

Happy, happy love-time,
Over-budded spring,
Never came the summer
With its blossoming.

The Four Henrys.

The following is translated from the French.

One stormy evening, in the sixteenth century, as the rain fell in torrents, an old woman, who lived in a miserable hut in the forest of St. Germain, and who passed in the surrounding country for a kind of witch, heard a loud knocking at the door. She opened it, and a young man on horseback presented himself and craved hospitality.

By the dim light of a lamp which she held in her hand she perceived him to be a young nobleman. He appeared to be quite young, and his dress denoted rank. The old woman lighted a fire, and enquired of the stranger whether he was hungry and desired food. The appetite of a youth of sixteen is like his heart at the same age, craving, and not difficult to please, and he immediately accepted the offer. A morsel of cheese and a loaf of black bread from the cupboard was all that the old dame could produce.

'I have nothing more,' she said to the young nobleman; 'this is all that your grinding tithes and taxes leave a poor creature to offer a traveler; the peasants, too in this country, call me a witch and sorceress, and make that excuse to their conscience for stealing from me the little that my poor old field produces.'

'Ma foi,' said the young man: 'if ever I become King of France, I will suppress the taxes and teach people better.'

'God grant it,' replies the old woman.

At these words the gentleman drew to the table to commence his repast; but at the same moment a fresh knock at the door arrested him.

The old woman opened it and perceived another horseman drenched with rain, who also begged for shelter. The same hospitality was instantly granted him, and by the stranger's entrance, she perceived that the man was young, and of noble descent.

'What is it you, Henry?' cried one.

'Yes, Henry,' replies the other—both were named Henry.

The old woman discovered from their conversation that they were of a number of a large hunting party, conducted by the King Charles IX., which had been dispersed by the storm.

'Mother,' says the second comer, 'have you nothing better to offer us?'

'Nothing,' replied she.

'Then,' said he, 'we will go shares.'

The first Henry demurred, but glancing at the resolute eye and the strong frame of the second Henry, said, in a somewhat chagrined tone—

'Agreed; we shall share equally.'

He dared not express his secret motive, but he feared, if not sharing equally, his companion would appropriate the whole. They accordingly set down on the either side of the table, and one had already begun to cut the bread with his dagger, when a third knock was heard at the door. The meeting was again singular. It was again a youth, a nobleman and a Henry. The old woman looked at them with astonishment.

The first commer wished to hide the bread and cheese. The second replaced them on the table and laid his sword by their side. The third Henry smiled.

'You do not wish then, that I should share your support?' said he. 'Well! I can wait; I have a strong stomach.'

'The supper,' said the first Henry, 'belongs by right to the first comer.'

'The supper,' said the second, 'belongs to him who knows best how to defend it.'

The third Henry became red with anger, and said, haughtily—

'Perhaps it belongs to him who knows best how to fight for it.'

These words were scarcely uttered when the first Henry drew his poignard, the two others their swords. As they were just beginning the affray, they were startled by a fourth knock at the cabin door, a fourth young man, a fourth nobleman, a fourth Henry was introduced. At the sight of drawn swords he produced his own, and, attaching himself to the weakest party, he joined in the combat.

The old woman, terrified, hid herself, and the weapons struck everything in their reach. The lamp fell down and was extinguished, but they continued to fight in the darkness. The noise of the sword lasted some time and then gradually become less, and at length ceased altogether. The old woman ventured to issue forth from her hiding place, and, rekindling the lamp she perceived the four young men stretched on the ground, each having a slight wound. She examined them carefully, and found that fatigue, rather than loss of blood, had overcome them.

They rose from the ground one after another and ashamed of what had transpired in the heat of their passion, they began laughing and exclaimed:

'Come, let us now sup together without any more fighting!'

But when they came to look for their supper they found it on the ground, all trodden under foot and stained with blood. Meagre as it was, they regretted it. In addition to this the cabin was destroyed, and the old witch, seated in a corner, fixed her pale, red eyes on the four young men.

'Why dost thou stare on us thus?' said the first Henry, who was troubled at her gaze.

'I am reading the fates written on your foreheads,' replied she.

The second Henry commanded her sternly to disclose them, and the two others laughingly acquiesced. The old woman replied:

'As you have all four met in the cabin, so shall you meet in a like destiny. As you have trampled under foot and stained with blood the bread offered you by hospitality, so will you trample under foot and stain with blood the power you might mutually share. As you have devasted and impoverished this cottage, so will you devastate and lay wast France. As you have all four been wounded in the darkness so you will all four perish by treason and a violent death.'

These four noblemen were the four heroes of the league—two as its leaders, and two as its enemies.

Henry of Conde, poisoned by his wife, at Saint Jean d'Angely.

Henry of Guise; assassinated at Blois, by the Forty-five.

Henry of Valois; assassinated by Jacques Clement, at St. Cloud.

Henry of Bourbon; assassinated at Paris by Ravaillac.

ARTIFICIAL NESTS. The Bulletin de la Societe d' Acclimatation contains interesting statements connected with the chief object the society have in view, that of rearing foreign animals in France. One of the most curious subjects treated in the last number is that of artificial birdsnests, as they are now made in Switzerland under the direction of the societies formed there for the protection of insectivorous birds. One of the members of a society of this description, M. X——, who inhabits Vevey, having observed that many species of that kind select for nests the holes they find in the trunks of rotten trees, and that they consequently do not find it easy to settle in orchards, where all the trees are in good condition, began twenty-five years ago to set up rotten trunks in his grounds; and since then he has had no need to trouble himself in the least about clearing away caterpillars, that care being entirely left to his winged guests, who perform their duty admirably. M. X——'s neighbors, on the contrary, who have not had this foresight, have their orchards laid waste by a host of voracious insects. The Yverdun Society have gone the length of placing artificial nests even in the public walks and communal forests, on the borders of the lawns, &c. All these nests are now inhabited by hedge-sparrows, redstarts, creepers and tomtits—all which may be found in Switzerland as high up as the perpetual snow line. The same practice has found its way into Germany.

MANUFACTURE OF BEAUTY. A foreign paper describes the process of making up a fashionable beauty in Paris at the present time. First among the beautiful appliances comes the Vestries enamel—an elastic pigment which fills up all indentations of the skin, pockmarks, furrows, scars. It is the same color of the flesh, and yields to the movement of the muscles. After being carefully filled wherever requisite, the whole face is washed with blanc de perles. A delicate powder called 'bloom of roses' is then applied in small quantities to the cheeks. (Not the rouge or carmine used by actresses to neutralize the ghastly blue glare cast up by the footlights.) Next, eye color is employed to impart expression to the eyes. The 'eye color' consists of three preparations—the first to darken the eyebrows, perfect their shape, and add to the upper and lower lashes; the second to remove crow's feet; and the third, which is a peculiar bluish powder, lightly laid on just under the eye, to increase its apparent size and add brilliancy.

Another preparation stains the lips and gums a 'natural looking' red; unnatural looking, from its brightness, would be the more correct description. A powerful dentifrice whitens the teeth, and probably hastens their decay; the unsightly hairs growing out of the moles, and the unfeminine down shading the upper lip, are destroyed by depilatories; freckles and skin stains are removed by a paste, which is said to decompose them and form a new scurf skin; tresses of any shade receive the much admired hay color, or a golden hue, from 'Albarine water,' or any darker tint, by the use of some other hair wash; and the nails are rendered delicate and induced to grow in the form required by nail shields worn at night.

MORAL COURAGE IN EVERY DAY LIFE.—Have the courage to discharge a debt while you have the money in your pocket.

Have the courage to do without that which you do not need, however much your eyes may covet it.

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary to do so, and to hold your tongue when it is prudent you should do so.

Have the courage to speak to a friend in a seedy coat, even though you are in company with a rich one, richly attired.

Have the courage to make a will and a just one.

Have the courage to tell a man why you will not lend him your money.

Have the courage to cut the most agreeable acquaintance you have, when you are convinced that he lacks principle. 'A friend should bear with a friend's infirmities,' but not with his vices.

Have the courage to show your respect for honesty, in whatever guise it appears; and your contempt for dishonest duplicity, by whosoever exhibited.

Have the courage to wear old clothes until you can pay for new ones.

Have the courage to obey your Maker, at the risk of being ridiculed by man.

Have the courage to prefer comfort and propriety to fashion, in all things.

Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance, rather than to seek credit for knowledge under false pretences.

Have the courage to provide entertainment for your friends, within your means, not beyond.

Have the courage to take a good paper, and to pay for it annually in advance.

FANCIFUL.

"He who would thrive must rise at five"
So says the proverb, though there is more rhyme than reason in it, for, if
He who would thrive must rise at five,
it must follow naturally,
He who'd thrive more must rise at four;
and it will insure a consequence that,
"He who'd still more thriving be
Must leave his bed at turn of three;
And who this latter would outdo
Will rouse him at the stroke of two.
And, by way of climax to it all, it should be held good that
He who'd never be outdone,
Must never rise as soon as one;
But the best illustration would be
He who'd flourish best of all,
Should never go to bed at all.

JOHNSON'S Improved Gold Medal LOCK-STITCH SEWING MACHINE.

THE original of this machine, which was placed on exhibition with some forty others in the Mechanics' Fair in Boston, in Sept. 1860, was pronounced superior to all others, and received the highest prize, a Gold Medal.

Notwithstanding the favor with which these machines have been received, the inventor has greatly increased its value by adding several improvements, making it now the most simple and reliable sewing machine in the world.

As these machines are the first introduced into this city, a lady of this city, who has one of the old Gold Medal Machines, sends us the following flattering testimonial:

MR. LOWELL—Dear Sir—Having used the Old Gold Medal Sewing Machine in my family over five years I am happy to inform you I am pleased with it in every respect. CANCERS CAN BE CURED!
DR. L. CHASE,
(LATE OF PORTLAND),
THE CELEBRATED
INDIANOPATHY, CANCER & HUMOR DOCTOR,

HAVING purchased the residence of H. A. Wood, 54 Hammond Street, Bangor, Maine, would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with Cancers, Cancer Humors, Tumors, Scrofula, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Fits, Neuralgia, Bronchial Affections, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Liver Diseases, Female Weaknesses, Piles, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Kidneys, Stiff Joints, Gravel, Diabetes, &c., &c.

DR. CHASE has practiced in his profession for sixteen years, and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country, and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world.

In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage.

His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster which is strictly vegetable, and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh; and in no case uses a knife as does Dr. Greene, of Boston.

He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their disease and location of their pains, and describe their feelings in almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves.

Dr. Chase is not a Clairvoyant but conducts his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a test examination.

Office hours from 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Examinations free. Office residence No. 54 Hammond Street.

THE undersigned respectfully represent that on account of the obstructions in the Great Works stream, running through the town of Bradley, Clifton and Amherst, logs and timber cannot be run without great difficulty and expense: they therefore pray that an Act of the Legislature be granted them to construct such dams and sluices and to clear such obstructions from said stream and its tributaries, from and within the town of Amherst to the mill pond at Nehemiah Kitteridge's mill on said stream in Bradley, as will make the driving of logs or lumber to the Penobscot River more easy and economical than it now is, and to levy and collect such tolls upon logs or lumber run or driven on said stream or its tributaries, as they may think just and just in the premises.

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPY.

Which is the Best Company to Insure in?

THE Massachusetts Commissioners, in presenting their Eleventh Annual Report to the Legislature of that State, say, "More than a million of persons belonging to the cream of our population are directly interested in this question." In no State is the ground better canvassed, and the character of the Companies more fully understood, than in Massachusetts. Nowhere are the Commissioners' reports so freely distributed and closely scrutinized.

Important to Lumbermen
AND
Owners of Hemlock Lands.

THE AMERICAN PATENTED IMPROVEMENT TANNING COMPANY of New York own the exclusive right in the United States for the manufacture of an imperishable "EXTRACT" from Hemlock Bark for tanning purposes. The Bark Extract is now extensively used among Tanners, and the demand for it is rapidly increasing. It commands a ready sale in Boston, New York and Philadelphia markets, at sixty cents per gallon. The appliances for manufacturing are simple and not expensive, costing but little more than the ordinary leaches used by Tanners. By this process 1½ cords of bark may be reduced so as to concentrate the entire strength into forty gallons of Extract, without in the slightest degree injuring its tanning qualities, and as a cost not exceeding one dollar per cord. The saving in freight alone, between the transportation of the Extract and the Bark, will range from six to eight dollars per cord, so that any one who may get out but three hundred cords of Bark per year, may save from two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars in the difference in freight.

The Company does not propose to sell Territorial rights, but will grant exclusive privilege to manufacture in certain localities, charging a small royalty per gallon on the amount manufactured.

The Company will send competent men to superintend the construction of works where parties desire to enter into the business, and to instruct in the manufacture of the Extract.

As a guarantee of success to parties entering into this business, the Company will contract to take all the Extract manufactured under their process at fifty cents per gallon, delivered in Boston or New York.

Parties in Maine desiring further information as to terms, &c., may call upon or address CHARLES HALE, General Agent for Maine, 2 Main street, Bangor, where models of the apparatus may be seen.

SNOW POWDER
Patented May 29, 1866.

This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations offered for a like purpose, WILL NOT ROT THE CLOTHES, but will leave them much WHITER than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirt by soaking, so that rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.

This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by Letters Patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used.—Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:—

It saves all the expense of soap usually used on cotton and linen goods.

It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear.

Also for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed.—With one quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the powder.

Directions with each package.

And can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of washing for a family of five or six persons will not exceed THREE CENTS.

The manufacturers of this powder are aware that many useless compounds have been introduced to the public which have rotted the cloth, or failed in removing the dirt, but knowing the intrinsic excellence of this article, they confidently proclaim it as being adapted to meet a demand which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied. Manufactured by
HOWE & STEVENS,
260 Broadway, Boston.
For sale by Grocers and Dealers everywhere.

THE BEST COOKING STOVE,
IN THE MARKET.
"PEERLESS," FOR COAL OR WOOD

THE "PEERLESS" has all the advantages of the popular stoves in use, together with such NEW FEATURES as justify the manufacturers in calling it the BEST COOKING STOVE in the market.

It is the "PEERLESS," because it is superior to all other Cooking Stoves in Economy, Simplicity, Cleanliness, Baking, Roasting and Beauty

1st, ECONOMY. A patented method of heating the air and conveying it through the oven, saves from twenty to thirty per cent. of fuel

2d, SIMPLICITY. It is easily managed. The fire can be perfectly controlled, and kept through an entire season without rekindling.

3., CLEANLINESS. No dust escapes while shaking or dumping the grate.

4 h, BAKING. Its large oven, wherein all parts are of equal temperature, bakes as evenly as a brick oven, and that without turning the article. It bakes quickly. It will bake upon the oven rack quickly, evenly and well at the same time the oven bottom is fully employed in baking or roasting.

5th, ROASTING. A current of hot air constantly passing through the oven, so thoroughly ventilates it, that it roasts as well as a tin kitchen.

6th, BEAUTY. Made of the best iron, it will not crack. Well mounted, artistically designed and smoothly cast, it is the most beautiful as well as the most serviceable stove in the market.

Each stove is WARRANTED to be and to do all that is claimed for it.
